

Supporting Student Learning and Wellbeing During School Closure

Staying home to continue your education may sound exciting to begin with, but over time this can affect your physical, social and emotional wellbeing. It is most important that you talk to your parents about your classwork and how you are feeling. You can still contact your teachers, leaders or the school counsellor during this time. You are reminded that you must stay at home during this time. Please keep safe and be well.

The chart below outlines who you should contact and when.

I have a question about my classwork	I am having trouble keeping up with my work	I am worried or I need to report something
