

Supporting Student Learning and Wellbeing During School Closure

Staying home to continue your education may sound exciting to begin with, but over time this can impact on your physical, social and emotional wellbeing. There may be times when you feel lonely, isolated or worried and anxious about your schoolwork or other matters. You can still contact your teachers, leaders or the school counsellor during this time.

The chart below outlines who you should contact and when.

I have a question about my classwork	I am having trouble keeping up with my work	I am worried or I need to report something
